

Trials Stars Bike Shows was founded in 2007 to promote the sport of Bike Trials through shows, competitions videos, and other media forms. Our current missions are as follows:

- Promote cycling with goal to increase the health of individuals and the planet
- Provide exciting entertainment for all ages
- Advance the sport of Bike Trials through all Trials Stars' endeavours.

Residents of Coquitlam, Canada, the team has grown up in British Columbia's large mountain bike oriented environment. Starting in cross country racing with SPOKE, a school-run organization, the Trials Stars were influenced by other trials professionals at a young age. Steve and Jeff became hooked on trials.

The Trials Stars – team riders Jeff Anderson and Steve Dickin, have traveled the world competing in places like China and Australia and performing in festivals and shows here in Western Canada and the Pacific Northwest. There has been a large bike trials competition scene which helped the Trials Stars progress to higher level of riding excellence.

With their skills and performance abilities, Steve and Jeff were invited to join other trials teams and in 2007 they created the Trials Stars Bike Shows.

The Trials Stars team is focusing on winning international competitions and promoting the sport of bike trials around the world.
